ENP STARTING GRANT 2015

The objective of the ENP Starting Grant Program is to attract junior scientists, working abroad and wishing to start rapidly a new research team in France.
Projects are selected on the basis of their innovative and daring potential, from all fields of neuroscience, and on the specific interest of the applicant for coming to the Île-de-France Region.

ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

- The candidate must apply from abroad*
- The candidate must have been selected as a team leader through an international call by a host research center belonging to ENP.

APPLICATIONS

Submitted applications must include:

- A CV of the applicant with a list of recent publications (max. 10) and all other relevant evidence supporting scientific excellence
- A description of the research project (max. 10 pages)
- A short description of the planned composition of research group (staff, provisional budget, necessary equipment…)
- A short letter from the Head of the hosting institution detailing:
    - ✓ Space and, if applicable, human resources and equipment allocated to the applicant
    - ✓ Description of the applicant's added value to the hosting laboratory and to the ENP network
    - ✓ Secured or pending support

CONTRIBUTIONS OF STARTING GRANT HOLDERS

The Starting Grant holder commits to

- Give lectures, interact closely with the hosting lab members and with the ENP Graduate students
- Participate in the training program of the ENP

NEED-TO-KNOW

- Applications must be transmitted by an ENP Principal Investigator by email to yvette.henin@paris-neuroscience.com before October 31st 2015.
- The hosting laboratory is in charge of all the administrative entrance formalities (visa, residence permit, etc.).
- Applications can be submitted all year-round to the ENP
- After an oral interview in November, the ENP steering committee will submit positive applications for validation by the ENP Board of Trustees (meeting in December)
- The offered financial support is 350 k€ max.

 Except for 2014 applications not treated yet for administrative reasons.